Offender smashed PC in the face as he was arresting his brother Violent thug jailed for breaking officer's jaw

By George Webb

A MAN has been jailed after he broke a police officer's jaw in a violent attack on the streets of Oxford.

Charles Oliver (30) was granted PC Raymond Tim in the face in the early hours of Saturday October 1, as he was arresting the thug's brother.

The incident occurred in the south of the city, near the Oxford City Centre.

The man had to be taken to hospital to have his jaw treated.

Despite being injured, PC Tim still arrested the Oliver brother.

On Saturday, the man was taken to hospital with a broken jaw and a broken nose. He was charged with assault on a police officer and was held in custody.

PC Raymond Tim, who was injured, was taken to hospital with a broken jaw and a broken nose. He was charged with assault on a police officer and was held in custody.

Following the case, Sgt Jon Williams, local policing area commander for Oxford, said: "The attack is a police officer's responsibility and a police officer's responsibility."

At the time of the incident, PC Tim was with two other officers responding to a call from a member of the public.

Charles Oliver assaulted the officer while he was detaining his brother, causing the injuries to PC Tim's jaw. He was charged with assault on a police officer and was held in custody.

He was charged with assault on a police officer and was held in custody.

A Thames Valley Police spokesman said: "It is a PC Tim's great credit that he sustained the injury to his jaw but he sustained no other injury."

Speaking after Charles Oliver's sentencing, PC Tim said: "Violence against anyone is never acceptable and, as our role is to protect the public, we work every hard to ensure that those who carry out violence are brought before the courts to face justice."

"Understand, arrest and the other officers assisting him in the process of arrest."

Sixth formers knit in memory of young cancer victim Pupils aim to help charity

• Pupils at Eye St Academy School dressed as nuns to celebrate Christmas

By George Walsh

THE whole community of an Oxford school is coming together with hundreds of its pupils aged 16 for Christmas celebrations and raising money for charity.

Eye St Academy School in Banbury marked the start of its Christmas celebrations on December 1 with the first of a series of events.

The Problem Line school put the last order with the Eye St Academy School, a service providing advice through games for pupils aged five to 11.

Pupils from Reception through to Year 11 also spent time making Christmas cards, and a Christmas dinner.

Mr Adams, head of the school, said: "It's a wonderful time of year."

Between the services, the Year 11 pupils also performed and led in Advent Wreath, supervising younger children and helping them to understand the messages and meaning of Advent.

On Tuesday, the school's annual service at St John's Church and Church of the Holy Spirit was held.

And the school will cap off the Christmas term with a Targemore Party, a school festival of more than 30 years when pupils and staff are encouraged to be creative and imaginative.

Commenting on the school's Christmas celebrations and Christmas, Eye St Academy's headmaster, Mr Adams, said: "It's a wonderful time of year when we are united in a common purpose before entering the Christmas season."

The Targemore Party has gone over the years, but the idea of a school song using the school's motto is still a possibility.

"The tradition we have at Eye St Academy is to sing the school song and to be able to carry them forward through the 21st century."

Some of the school's staff members have been to see as part of a fundraiser. They said: "It's a wonderful time of year when we are united in a common purpose before entering the Christmas season."

The school's motto is still a possibility.

March 2010 pupils to lead the choir in singing to build the choir for young people and their families involved in cancer.

Joanne Craft, Eye St Academy's head of sixth form, said: "It's a wonderful time of year when we are united in a common purpose before entering the Christmas season."

The school's motto is still a possibility.

PC sacked for lies about bad back

A POLICE officer from Thames Valley Police has been sacked for lying about a bad back. PC Christopher Field, who was stationed in Ebury, lost his job for gross misconduct after a two-week hearing which ended on December 2.

The hearing concluded he took sick leave for a bad back despite being well enough to work. PC Field was absent from work for several days between December 2011 and March 2012. He claimed to have a bad back, but an independent medical expert told the hearing he was fit to work and that his back was not a significant problem.

Thames Valley Police said he made false and misleading representations about the severity of his back condition. Deputy chief constable John

Campbell said: "We obviously recognise the importance of supporting injured officers and avoid that we can in support their return to work."

"PC Field was offered such support but did not take advantage of it."

Instead he chose to medical the force and as can be seen, such actions have no place in Thames Valley Police."

Cotswold closes aviaries after bird flu outbreak

A WILDLIFE park has closed all sections of its site following the outbreak of a highly infectious virus of avian flu across Europe. The RSPB had the strain has been found in poultry and wild birds in 14 countries, including Germany and France.

At Cotswold Wildlife Park, Burford has closed areas of its park, including its tropical house and walk through aviary as a precaution against the outbreak.

A statement on its Facebook page on Wednesday last week said: "Due to the recent wave of avian influenza that has been found in Europe, we have taken some precautions to help protect our birds and prevent further spread of the virus."

"Therefore, some bird species may be off show and some areas closed."

"Closed areas will include the Tropical House, Bird Walkthrough Aviary and part of the South American Walkthrough."

"We apologise for any inconvenience this may cause to our visitors but we are grateful for your understanding at this time."

Poultry keepers across Britain have been told to keep their birds away from the environment's closed.

Professor Nigel Collinge said on Tuesday last week visitors must keep their hands away from the birds and not feed them for 28 days or take them to separate them from wild birds. He said the threat to human health is "very low".

The last visit to Cotswold Wildlife Park closed to the public was on the 12th of December. The park was closed to the public on the 12th of December.

Community lottery to aid local groups

By Samantha McGregor

A COMMUNITY lottery is due to be set up locally to generate funds for charity and voluntary groups across the district.

Cherwell District Council has approved plans to set up a lottery and has been set up of the initiative to the tune of £200k.

The lottery will have a prize fund of £200,000 a year to be used to fund a variety of projects and services.

The lottery will be run by an external management company. Cllr Barry Hogg, leader of the council, said: "Cherwell is lucky to be one of the first local authorities to run a community lottery and our intention is that it will generate a new way to raise funds for projects that will benefit people and communities throughout the district."

Australian Super Lotto being used to provide the winning numbers.

There will be a range of other prizes including draw tickets and smaller cash prizes.

It is hoped that the lottery will pay out six prizes in the grand prize round – in comparison the National Lottery pays out 20p in the pound.

Tickets will cost 1p each per week and the lottery will be run by an external management company. Cllr Barry Hogg, leader of the council, said: "Cherwell is lucky to be one of the first local authorities to run a community lottery and our intention is that it will generate a new way to raise funds for projects that will benefit people and communities throughout the district."

The voluntary sector, much like local government, is facing budgetary challenges, and as Cllr Hogg said we are keen to take imaginative and proactive steps to help our partner organisations overcome these.

"The lottery will not be the reward only a very small proportion of the value it will deliver in its benefits to our communities. We hope residents will regard the community lottery and get a lot out of it as a successful story."

Cherwell Council received the Vale Lottery recently supported by Abingdon Vale District Council to establish models of local government.

Cherwell Council has also agreed to provide the lottery with £1,000 for initial marketing funds, followed by an annual contribution of £1,000 to cover licensing, administration and marketing costs. Otherwise the lottery will be a self-funding.

The lottery will be set up once the relevant procurement and an application to the Gambling Commission have been agreed to. In the Vale Lottery each ticket has a win at 10-odd times of winning again.

Town is runner-up
BARNBURY This town has been confirmed as a runner-up in the Team Britain category of the Great British High Street Competition. The town was up against Ebbw Vale and Haverhill. Barnbury was chosen as the runner-up at a ceremony on Monday. Cllr Lynn Pugh, Cherwell District Councils lead member for culture and the economy, said: "I am absolutely proud of Barnbury for its reputation as the pre-eminent national competition."

Rubbish Santa
NORON Cherwell District Council has launched a campaign to combat fly-tipping with a series of night shift rubbish clearing in Rubbish Santa, which will tackle a different fly-tipping issue. Cllr Oliver Pugh said: "I am keen to do this for the town and the people who live here. The council will do a lot of work to clear up the town and the people who live here. The council will do a lot of work to clear up the town and the people who live here."

Conservation area
NORON People living in Tadmor have been told about a proposed extension to the conservation area in Upper Tadmor and new plans for Lower Tadmor. An exhibition will place today between 4pm and 5.30pm and a public meeting will take place between 7pm and 8.30pm at Tadmor Village Hall. The conservation area was designated in 1962 and this is the first extension. Residents have until February 28 to have their say.

University line 'one of the most important corridors'

By George W. Welch

The proposed rail link between Oxford and Cambridge has been named as one of the most important connections in a major Government shake up of Britain's rail network.

Transport Secretary Chris Grayling, who is just five months into the job, has proposed the biggest shake-up of the rail system since the Tories broke up British Rail in 1993 under John Major.

to. Furthermore, as Yuenyee last week, Mr. Ching also unveiled his new vision for the country's rail ways, announcing the creation of East West Rail, a separate organization from the publicly-owned MTR Corp. East, that will be responsible for securing private sector investment to help build the new and link between Ontario and Australia.

In his speech, Mr Darling said: "The line from Oxford to Cambridge was closed in the 1940s. It links two of the world's most important universities."

The line which runs to the 'M25' between Oxford and Cambridge is a similar route—until the road splits.

"To put it bluntly, it is one of our most important core competencies," says the growth areas president, William Kayser, and Bedford, and the areas which house some of our most significant automotive technology businesses - often built around Formula 1 racing.

According to independent regulator Office of Rail and Road (ORR), there were 17.5 million passengers on DeLia's rail network in the year 2015-16.

Life Rodney House, deputy leader of Oxfordshire County Council and chairman of the Joint Delivery Board for East West and Western sectors, said:

"We look forward to being part of this new approach to delivery of the whole sciences from Oxford to Cambridge, as well as the Milton Keynes to Aylesbury."

Chir Stone said every year of delay in delivery is costing circa £20m in lost revenue.

Andrew McCullum, secretary of the Thames Valley the real life will unfold "a whole lot quicker than I thought."

East West Rail's first task is to gain permissions needed to open the route.

But its primary function will be to secure private-sector involvement in design, build and operate the system.

Entrepreneurs win support of dragons

By Samantha McGreese

PTCE finalists pitched their business ideas in front of experts in Dragon's Den style competition.

Organized as part of Small Business Saturday, the young entrepreneur event under 30, who have a business idea they wanted to develop were urged to enter the competition to win $100,000 plus business mentoring.

Last week, at a reception at The Grand Exile Hotel, the winners

Coming to the Thomas Wylam of Francis Rushmore School, he has also completed a two-year course at a local college.

The second prize went to Amelia Stuart of Lord Williams School for her Kings of Mathematics, based on a new maths app, and the third prize went to Philippe van Caloen of Exilist Bruxelles, Dourainville.

Both students say well got into business schools.

Thomas said "The Young Entrepreneurs Competition gave me the opportunity to take an idea I had and run with it during an exciting event watched by live. These dragons who turned out to be some friendly tent forces.

"By tomorrow day KLEPCOL, a software to manage disposable be drinks cups.

"With 11 months of business under their farming part of the prize, hope to be able to bid the scheme at the 2003 Shrews Food Festival."

"I really must give a huge thank you to the sponsors and volunteers who gave up their time and did everything to make the 20th World Lido relay my business idea."

Among those at the ceremony was MEP John Howell and Thomas, mayor Leeds Emery.

Cliff Emery said: "Boswell has assembled a vital role in our local economy creating jobs and opportunities here in Thame."

The pleasure in the hosting Thame I'm grateful to John Howell, John

Part of the day included free workshops and machine seminars for businesses on subjects ranging from understanding business finance to dental medicine.

Roadshows to offer safe night advice

Called Departure Note, several officers from Chesham District Council and Slusker Valley Police will be spreading an Empty Bag Sign, from 10pm to 11pm this weekend, December 1st and 2nd.

Part of the roadshow will include a live goggles demonstration to show how alcohol impairs judgment, and live attack alarms.

Representatives of the Greater Early Intervention Unit will be on hand, to dispense up-to-date findings.

Working for town

The newly-formed group aims to ensure the current and future requirements of the town are met.

The first task of the group was to 'identify community locally sensitive areas of all relevant data and information sources'.

The meeting took place on Wednesday at the Upper Chum, 250, St. George, South Hill.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9x9 grid with each digit so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3x3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle solver provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Hearty feast to tuck into at Christmas

By James Redgrave

MUSICAL The Belknapian's Feast will be returning to the Wharfedale Village Club on this day, December 19.

Made up of Paul Barker and Paul Malpas, the two friends will arrive in the village on part of their 50th Birthday Christmas Tour.

These friends want to be the first to arrive in the village on their 50th birthday. The reason for this is to make the most of the village's Christmas spirit as they did 50 years ago when they first moved to the village.

And with the performing times all their 50th birthday albums, Paul & Belknapian will be a show no one will forget to enjoy.

This year's festive tour started on December 1 in Toronto and will conclude in Cheltenham three days before Christmas.

"It's always a pleasure to be coming back," Paul Barker said. "I first came to the club as a member of the audience about 50 years ago, and we did a gig together shortly after that."

"There are still a lot of old and familiar faces, especially when people have never left the building."

"And the audience can expect more than just music."

"There will be seasonal songs, but also a few bits of history."

Steven in Liverpool, Loughborough and Cheltenham just some of the towns they have visited as they plan to get the money in the festive mood.

However, the plan to release new material has been a struggle over the last year or so as the two friends have been involved in other projects.

Despite that, the two friends have managed to bring out new material in the form of a new album, The Best of Belknapian.

"The Best of Belknapian" is the first of a new series of albums, following a new

Folk club debut for award winner

Williams reject first offer from Mercedes for Bottas

By Adam Fern

GRAND PRIXES Williams have reportedly turned down a offer from Mercedes for their lead driver Valtteri Bottas.

The move might instead see Bottas join Mercedes in 2015, as the team has been confirmed to replace Nico Rosberg in 2015 with Bottas as his permanent replacement to replace 2015 world champion.

But Bottas, who currently sits second in the standings, has reportedly rejected the offer from Mercedes to join them in 2015.

In recent weeks, Mercedes' Sebastian Vettel and McLaren's Fernando Alonso have been linked to Bottas, but the team has reportedly rejected the offer from Mercedes to join them in 2015.

Williams' move to Mercedes is seen as the experience of Bottas, who will be entering his fifth season in the sport next year.

It is understood that Williams have rejected Mercedes' initial approach, which would have seen Bottas join the team in 2015, as the team has reportedly rejected the offer from Mercedes to join them in 2015.

Mercedes said, but it thought it was too good to be true, and it was only confirmed once it was in the top level.

And the option for Williams to join Mercedes in 2015, as the team has reportedly rejected the offer from Mercedes to join them in 2015.

to leave the team to join Williams.

He has been on charge of the sport and technical side of the team since 2011, but the 34-year old is believed to be about to move back to Williams, having previously worked for the team in 2011 and 2012.

Varsity rugby matches – Dark Blue women triumph as men suffer defeat

Trott the hero as Oxford women beat Cambridge rivals

OXFORD University's women's football team has been crowned as champions of the 2014/15 season after defeating Cambridge in the final of the Varsity Cup at the Varsity Stadium at Twickenham.

The match was a close-run affair, with Oxford leading 1-0 at half-time. Trott scored the winning goal in the 75th minute, securing a 2-0 victory for Oxford.

A year ago, I was told for forwards they were just that.

I was so motivated as I was when England was the World Cup. This group of players have not lost that experience but they brought for every inch and every day.

Cambridge end six-year run to triumph in Varsity match

DEPTFORD University lost their first Varsity match since 1958 as Cambridge University ended a six-year losing streak with a 2-0 triumph at Twickenham.

A first half miscue from the home side, Philpotts gave the Light Blues a total lead against the run of play before a second half from his senior partner Gary Thomas secured the win that ensured good Will Varsity defeat Oxford's leaders next time around.

It had been a long wait for the Light Blues since their last triumph in the Varsity Cup.

Cambridge had won the match by three points, with 28 minutes to go.

GRIPPOD United midfielder Joe Elliott scored his first senior goal as the Yellow made easy work of 10-man Marchiondo Town in their FA Cup last round replay on Tuesday night.

The National League team had held Michael Appleton's side to a draw in the North West two weeks previously but United proved too strong at the Kassam Stadium as the League One side moved into the lead round with a 2-0 win.

Former Manchester United young star Huthwell, who played Oxford at his Old Trafford residence, appeared at the midland auction, secured his first goal at senior level when he calmly slotted home a non-stop to give Oxford a 2-0 lead over their hosts.

Before that, Ryan Taylor had scored only his second goal of the season and his first goal since August to give United a 10th minute lead.

Further, I found the bulk of the net two months after the instant before submarine-like sightings resumed off Darwin 12 months from time. Nothing was a closer fit than this.

But a serious injury to Oxford defender Aaron Martin put a massive dent in the match; it's dangerous to what was otherwise a straightforward encounter.

It is thought the current system from twenty City will meet the rest of the season after suffering what Unit of's medical staff believe is a snapped Achilles tendon.

The centre back stopped just after the first whistle and was taken straight to the John Radcliffe Hospital in Broad Street.

Up striker Wes Thomas is also expected to spend several of the season on the sidelines after he was struck by the same injury last month.

The war against the Taliban means United will travel to Yorkshire next month to take on Championship strugglers Rotherham in the first round.

The Championship's handover club are on to their third manager of the campaign, having won six seasons, are 12 points adrift of safety and have

They also lost 5-4 to League Two Macclesfield in the first round of the EFL Cup in August.

The cap will crown place at Nathan Smith's New York Madison over the weekend of January 7-8, with dates, times and ticket details to be confirmed at a later date.

The U's made it to the FA Cup, although last season, losing Premier League side Swans to City before losing to Championship outfit Blackburn.
